2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

The invention relates to dihydropyrazole compounds and their method of use in treating cellular proliferative diseases. Considering the prior art cited, Journal of Organic Chemistry, 1996, Vol. 61, No. 14 in the international search report, claims 1-33 of this invention are novel. Claims -133 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest the compounds as described in this application.
